SHORT STORY

Over Her Shoulder

By Mrs. Frank Chase

THE headlights of the car shone like cat's eyes as Eileen sped along the deserted mountain highway.

She looked in the rear view mirror at the trailer following behind her. It was riding smoothly. Her husband was taking his turn sleeping in the trailer. At the next town she would stop to change places with him.

She turned on the eleven o'clock news. The fugitive, who escaped from police in Los Angeles, has not been apprehended. He was last seen heading south in a stolen Ford. He is armed and dangerous.

She turned off the radio. Her fear of the dark was bad enough without any such reports stirring the imagination. She was tired. Her feet hurt and she decided to squander a few minutes of her time by stopping to change her shoes.

She pulled off the road but did not get out. She was on the floor and she rubbed her swollen feet. She looked at her watch. It was 11:15. She was tired. She was tired. She was tired.

As always, when starting, she glanced back at the trailer. She looked in the rear view mirror. The fugitive was still there. She was tired. She was tired. She was tired.

She just knew. He might kill her. She was tired. She was tired. She was tired.

She was smart. He'd know the right approach. If he didn't, maybe he'd hit him with the shovel. She was tired. She was tired. She was tired.

After what seemed an eternity she saw the lights of the city. She was tired. She was tired. She was tired.

There was a silence. The officer fired a shot into the air. A tall, heavy set man came out, his hands held high. An officer searched him, removed his gun and shoved him into the police station. Eileen, her heart in her mouth, ran to the trailer.

The fugitive was locked in a cell and Eileen was helped into the station where she fell into a chair.

She started to tell her story. "Oh, Ed," she cried, "Are you all right? I was so frightened. I got out to check the tail light when you stopped. Something hit me on the head. Next thing I remember I was picked up by some people. Thank heavens you're right. I was afraid you'd stop along the highway. We were right back of you."

"You did know something was wrong in the trailer?"

"Down Ed and I had agreed never to pull this thing because we signal through that window."

About People and Things

By C. B. McDowell

STROUD KILLS BOBCAT

T. M. Stroud, who resides east of Elba on the Elba-New Brockton highway, reported that he shot a bobcat a week ago after it had killed two of his hens. He said another cat killed two more of his chickens, so he set a steeltrap and caught another one a few nights ago. Mr. Stroud said he hopes the depredations on his henhouse will cease.

THREE MARRIAGE LICENSES

Three licenses to wed were issued at the Elba post office during the past week as follows: John E. Jernigan, 28, Elba route one, and Miss Jeanette Wiloughby, 20, Jack route one. Charles E. Owens, 20, Elba route 5, and Miss Margaret Ford, 16, Brantley route two. Warren Chester Downing, 33, Tonnelle route one, and Miss Dorothy Ann Ziglar, 18, Arifton.

EARLY COLD WEATHER

L. A. Maddox was comparing the first fall weather of the past few days with a cold spell he remembers 41 years ago. He was married Oct. 5, 1906, and on that date this section of Alabama was visited by a heavy frost and hard freeze. When hearing about the episode, Harv Den and Rigger Burt were highly amused. They were just having such time weathering now, we may look for frost and freezing temperatures before long, as dog fennel is in full bloom and cock's burrs are maturing rapidly.

Although the storms may be no more than a few inches in height, they say it is a sure sign of colder weather.

TWENTY BRIDGES DAMAGED

Judge J. O. English stated Wednesday morning that reports received from Commissioners in the four districts, approximately twenty bridges were more or less damaged by the recent storm, being pretty well distributed over the districts. He said most of the bridges have been sufficiently repaired to allow traffic to be resumed.

Judge English also stated that many roads throughout the county were damaged, some of them being washed out or less washed and left in a rough condition. He said he has been busy and most of the roads throughout the county have been smoothed and are now in good condition.

CIRCUIT COURT

The fall term of Coffee County Circuit Court for trial of civil cases convened at Elba, Monday morning at nine o'clock with Judge E. F. Paul presiding. Cases were disposed of as follows:

E. F. Dunbar vs. Joe Jernigan, assumpsit. Continued.

George Wilson, doing business as Wilson Motors vs. Q. P. Boswell, detinue. Ministerial. Evidentiary officiating.

T. G. Burgess vs. J. D. Cain, damages. Verdict for plaintiff in amount of $800.

J. T. Worin vs. Dewey Schofield, damages. Continued.

Curry Taylor vs. Hartford Fire Insurance Company, Assumpsit. Continued by agreement.

Beaul Whitman vs. Emergency Aid Fire Insurance Company, Assumpsit. Trial by jury; verdict for plaintiff, fixing damages at $4,000.

James E. Ammons vs. Town of Elba, Reassuring Arrest, appealed from City Court. Dismissed on motion of Town of Elba.

James E. Ammons vs. Town of Elba, Carrying a Pistol, appealed from City Court. Defendant in open court entered plea of guilty and fined $80 and costs.

Elba Exchange Bank vs. J. E. English, Detinue. Continued for settlement.

Crommelin Will Face Sparkman In Senate Race

"At the proper time I will qualify as a Democratic candidate for the office of United States Senator from my home state of Alabama," John G. Crommelin of Wetumpka announced this week.

"I have reached this decision after traveling over much of the state in the past few weeks and talking to my friends from every walk of life. I believe the people are anxious to see their government in Washington returned to home rule. They want a change from absentee government which has too long neglected the issues and principles close to the daily lives of our citizens."

"Three years ago I made the senate race after my retirement from the U. S. Navy. My time for campaigning was necessarily short and did not permit me to go and talk to my friends and fellow citizens as widely as I would have preferred to do. However, I am now in a position to do so and I want to again thank from the bottom of my heart all those who supported me."

"In the coming race I will discuss fully and frankly all of the important issues which face us today both at home and in the larger sphere of world affairs. You will know where John Crommelin stands on every issue."

Layman's Day was observed in the First Baptist Church last Sunday with Judge E. F. Paul and Messrs. J. E. Plant and J. E. English presiding. The service was held at the morning hour. Mr. Carney spoke on the Layman's duties concerning his personal Christian life and Judge Paul spoke on the Layman's duties in the home and in business.

Henry Dorsey led in the Morning Prayer. This day was observed in about 21,000 churches in the Southern Baptist Convention which takes in 21 states with about 7,500,000 members.

Next week beginning Monday night and closing Thursday night a study of the Bible will be held with classes for all six years old and over. This is a study that is being held in all Baptist Churches in Southern Baptist Convention.

THREE ACT COMEDY PLAY

There will be a three act comedy play, "Beck of Oling," Friday night October 23, 1953, at 7:30 at Chestnut Grove Methodist Church.

Surviving are his widow, Maude Hattaway Farris, 23, daughter, Mrs. E. A. Albert, Charles Ray, Connie, William, David and Wayne Farris; six daughters, Mrs. Estelle Young, Mrs. Lucille Bowdoin, Mrs. Dixie Bullard, Miss Bonnie Farris, Miss Farris and Miss Connie Farris.

Funeral services were held Oct. 13 at Bethlehem Church, Elder E. F. Paul officiating.

Interment was in Bethlehem Cemetery, Hayes Funeral Home directing.

METHODIST MEN

The Elba Methodist Men's Club held "Charter Night" at the church Monday night. A large group of men enjoyed a supper served in the Men's Bible Classroom, after which Hamp Morris, president of Alabama Mills of Geneva, presented the club charter and gave a talk.

After losing to the Opp Bulldogs juggernaut the previous Friday the Elba Tigers returned to form last Friday night. The Enterprise Wildcats, 26-0.

From the opening kickoff by Charles Ellis, it was apparent that the Tigers were entirely too strong for the Wildcats and it was only a question of the size of the score.

The Tigers jumped off to a good start as they held the Wildcats to the ground and forced them to punt. After a series of plays, the Tigers pushed the ball to the Enterprise yard line for a touch-down by Wayne Marler took the ball over tack for a touch-down.

The second score came when Marlin Dyess picked up 20 yards in the first quarter. A run of 30 yards by Marler was good for the third Elba touchdown in the second quarter and a nice run of 25 yards by Dyess scored the fourth matter. The Tigers scored the fourth matter.

The Tigers scored the fourth matter. The Tigers scored the fourth matter. The Tigers scored the fourth matter.

Fire Destroys Filling Station

Fire gutted the Standard Service station, Friday morning. Ernest Taylor, proprietor, stated that he went to the station about four o'clock in the morning to open up for the day's business. He entered the front door and passed through the building. When he opened the rear door there was a terrific explosion which blew him onto the grease rack, knocking him down. He was not injured.

Night policeman Frazier Alday said he was alongside the service station talking to George Beddie, colored driver of the city trash truck and saw Mr. Taylor enter the building. When Mr. Taylor opened the rear door he heard an explosion and Mr. Taylor was blown into the rear of the building. Both Mr. Alday and Mr. Taylor said they saw the fire start in the rear of the building, but almost immediately the whole interior burst into flames.

Mr. Taylor said he estimates the loss at approximately $5,000, about half covered by insurance. The building and contents were completely ruined.

The fire department, following the first alarm, which was turned in by Alday, arrived at the scene in remarkably quick time, and had the fire under control within a few minutes preventing damage to adjacent property. The flames were confined to the inside of the building. Roof and walls were saved.

Dorsey Chevrolet now has its used cars on display. The cars are deep in trunks or at the bottom of dresser drawers in Elba. For the Elba Clipper Centennial Edition to be delivered Nov. 19, pictures of this area before the 1929 flood are wanted. The best pictures turned in for three different categories will receive $20 prizes. These old photos will be printed in the Centennial Edition.

A real old timer was brought in that shows the square during the flood of 1929. A write-up of the event will also be carried in the Centennial Edition. Then, another interesting picture shows the first graduating class at Elba High School that was large enough to warrant having graduating ceremonies. Members of that class included Mrs. J. O. English, Mrs. Gardner Clark and Mrs. V. J. Polmore.

Old Polar Mystery Seen in Ice Island At Top of World

WASHINGTON—Lear, Col. Joseph O. Fletcher, U.S.A.F., writing in the National Geographic magazine, says Fletcher's ice island, the drifting Air Force base at the top of the world, may have been Admiral Peary's mythical Crocker Land, never sighted again after the man who first reached the North Pole "discovered" it in 1906.

Fletcher's island and others like it could have been responsible for Keenan Land, President's Land and other nonexistent places set down on maps of the Arctic by early explorers.

"No discredit reflects upon the brave and experienced Arctic explorer of another day," Colonel Fletcher says.

"Men of the Air Force can testify that ice islands closely resemble land, particularly when the viewer is walking around on one on a summer day."

Even radar was fooled by these 100 to 200 foot thick masses of fresh-water ice rising distinctly above the surrounding salt ice of the Arctic pack. In fact, the first known ice island, one similar to Fletcher's, was reported as new land by the airborne radar operator who found it.

Colonel Fletcher has established that the ice islands broke from a thick sheet of ice that breaks off it becomes an island that can drift at the mercy of wind and tide in clockwise sweep around the western sector of the polar basin. It disintegrates hardly at all in the cold polar seas.

WOMAN RECRUITER

Sgt. Frances O'Neal, Wac and War Recruiter from Montgomery, Alabama will be at the U.S. Army & U.S. Air Force Recruiting Station, in the Post Office Building, Dothan, Alabama, at 10:00 A.M. on 1 October 1953, for the purpose of interviewing anyone who might be interested in the Women's Army Corps and Women's Air Force.

In awarding the citation to the corps for the period Feb. 15, 1952 to July 27, 1953, resident Sgt. Frances O'Neal, Wac, was cited for her bold and valiant defense along the key central section of the peninsula.

Corporal Watson, whose parents live in New Brockton, Ala., is a section chief in Company B of the 101st Signal Battalion. In Korea since January, he also holds the UN and Korean Service Ribbons.

Japan Faces Big Population Problem

TOKYO—Japan faces one of the greatest population problems of any country in the world today. The average population density, particularly in the lowland regions, is high. The density, to the square mile of arable land is the highest in the world—3,000, compared with 240 in Britain and 240 in the United States.

The problem is bound to become more acute through the years as the population is increasing constantly and rapidly. The question of food becomes of the greatest importance as the standpoint of the nation as well as that of the individual.

Since the food value derived from a given amount of grain is several times greater than that of milk or meat produced by feeding the same amount of grain to animals, Japanese farmers do not raise livestock on a large scale. The nation depends on fish to meet the requirements of protein. The per capita consumption of fish is sixty pounds a year.

Fortunately the shallow Japan Sea and the lake-like coastline, dotted with hundreds of islands and harbors, provide exceptionally good fishing grounds.

Oklahoma Cop Spots Speeders From Air

OKLAHOMA CITY—If you are speeding in Oklahoma you need to look out for more than just patrol cars. Lt. Art Hamilton, a highway patrolman, catches speeders the easy way—from an airplane.

Hamilton is the official pilot of the Oklahoma patrol's light traffic plane, which first went into service in 1949 as an aid to prevent traffic jams.

Before long, however, he was radioing information on traffic violations—such as passing on hills and curves—to ground units. Offending motorists were flabbergasted, to put it mildly.

To catch speeding automobiles he clocks them over a measured course with a stopwatch and converts the reading into miles per hour. For mileage, he uses the one-mile section-line roads that crisscross Oklahoma like a warble.

Palomino Breeders Have Stiff Standards

WASHINGTON—No bluebook of high society ever set stiffer standards of entry than those of the register of palomino horses.

A true palomino, today's rules specify "the body color must be more than three shades lighter or darker than a newly minted gold coin. The mane and tail must be white, silver, or ivory, with not more than 15 per cent dark hairs in either."

White stockings and a forehead blaze of white can set off the proud golden coat. But we bet the errant palomino with a hint of zebra stripes on its legs or a dark stripe down its back. These markings disqualify for registration.

Body Fat Necessary

CHICAGO—An article in today's Health, American Medical Association publication, states that not having enough body fat is just as dangerous as having too much. Fatty tissue in proper amounts is essential to the human body. About 10 to 15 per cent of the total body weight is considered a normal amount of fatty tissue.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

The Shining Light

Lesson for October 18, 1953

ARE we agreed that Christians ought to plan ahead for a better world? Are we agreed that the foundation of a better world is Jesus Christ and Christianlike personality? Then we can go on with the next question, a very practical one: What exactly can God's "new world" do to leave this world better than they found it? Granted, we shall never see an ideal world this side of heaven; granted, we shall be imperfect persons as long as we live in this world. It is still possible, however, that we can have a "new world" for Christians to live in, a "new world" for Christians to live in, a "new world" for Christians to live in.

Salt and Light

The first thing we can do, odd as it may sound, is not to do so well as we are. Jesus spoke to his disciples—and to us—in terms of salt. Salt and light. Now salt and light do not do anything, or rather, they do nothing on their own. They are, if salt could change its mind and decide to be pepper or sand, no good at all. It would want it. If Dr. Foreman an electric light could change itself into a doorknob, it would cause no end of trouble. The salt doesn't rush around doing something, it is just salt. The light doesn't rush around doing something, it is just light. Salt and light are alike in this: there is no real substitute for either one. So there is no substitute for real Christians in this world. They are alike also in that they do whatever they do, by contact. Salt in a shaker, light in a steel box, are of no use. So the Christian to be of use in the world must not shrink from contact with it.

Furthermore, salt and light are alike in that they must be used in a way that is not too prominent. No one cares for over-salted food or glaring lights. So a Christian who is like a Pharisee, wearing his virtues on his chest like a string of medals, is a nuisance to all concerned. But still it is true that the first and most constant service which every Christian can render in this confused and dark world is simply to be as good a Christian, as faithful a representative and servant of Jesus Christ as he can possibly be.

Helping Others

Another thing that God's new men can do, a thing which can make the world and in many respects has been remaining it—a thing that sounds simple but which calls for a great deal of thought and planning, is this: just helping other people.

The New Testament makes it quite clear that an unhelpful Christian is hardly a real Christian at all. Naturally, not all Christians have the same opportunities. A little girl just entering the first grade can help her classmates and the teacher; but the teacher, if she is a good one, can help all the class even more. The principal of the school, by selecting good teachers, can by his skill in judging people help every pupil in the school. The members of the school board by picking good principals can help the whole school system. A boy on a farm in Missouri does not have the same opportunity to be helpful that he would have if he had been appointed Secretary of State. But a Christian, whether his zone of operations is a farm or the world, can always find ways of "going about doing good" as the Master did.

Winning Others

There is one thing that most Christians do not do, which—if they only went at it with any enthusiasm—would spread their light farther than any other one thing. (We bear in mind that if a Christian has any light, it is because Christ shines through him.) If it is true that the "better world" even if only a little better, can come to pass only as personalities are changed into the likeness of Christ, then the best thing a Christian can do toward a better world is to win others to his own Saviour. Saint Paul no doubt was helpful to others by the tents he made, for we can scarcely imagine him turning out shoddy or bungled work. He was more helpful still by "growing in grace" and shining as a true Christian character. But was there any service he performed which meant as much to him, in satisfaction, or to the world, by way of improvement, as the service he rendered in winning men from the kingdom of darkness to the kingdom of light?

Should we, likewise, be helped by the great example of the Christian of Christ (Paul, in this case) who was a true Christian, released by Community Service.)

Top Executives - Salesmen Take the Dale Carnegie Course

12 THINGS DALE CARNEGIE TRAINING WILL HELP YOU DO—

The Dale Carnegie Course in Effective Speaking: Human Relations, Sales Psychology, Business Leadership, Will Help You To

- 1—Think on your feet.
- 2—Speak before business conferences, clubs, organizations.
- 3—Sell your goods, services, your ideas, your personality.
- 4—Increase your poise, polish, and personal force, both in business interviews and before groups.
- 5—Win friends and influence people.
- 6—Increase your income through your ability to handle people. John D. Rockefeller said: "I will pay more for ability to handle people than for any other ability under the sun."
- 7—Become a more effective leader in your business or profession through your ability to speak convincingly to individuals and groups.
- 8—Remember names, faces, facts. Speak without notes.
- 9—Make worthwhile friends. In these classes you will form friendship that will last a lifetime.
- 10—Become a better executive. Officials of management and labor say: That expertise of the future must be experienced in human relations and sales psychology.
- 11—Get out of a rut. Improve your personality.
- 12—Develop courage and self-confidence. Destroy fear of failure, of competition.

Great-Grandsons
Of Bounty Mineers
Live on Pitcairn

PITCAIRN ISLAND—The great-grandsons of the Bounty mineers still live on the bleak and isolated Pacific island of Pitcairn.

The island has no harbor or beach and the Pitcairners must row their 37-foot longboats through the heavy surf which constantly pounds the rock-bound coast to come alongside the ships that anchor off the mile-wide island rising 1,000 feet above the South Pacific.

These descendants of men who carried out the most famous mutiny in history trade tropical fruit for clothes, medical supplies, and odd luxuries. The longest carries the mail, too.

The secrets of the reefs have been handed down since the muti-ners of Captain Bligh's Bounty settled on the island in 1790 after burning their ship.

The present skipper of the Pitcairn longboat is Andrew Young, a direct descendant of the Bounty mutineers. He is 60 years old and his great-grandfather, Young, is an expert seaman and always mans the steering car—a vital job.

Young has maintained the radio link since the days of the crystal diode and spark coils.
Today his equipment is as modern as any in the South Pacific.

SALE NOTICE
Notice is hereby given that the Coffee County Board of Education will receive sealed bids for the sale of Shiloh and Yelverton negro school property, including land and buildings at the office of the County Superintendent of Education, Elba, Alabama, until October 20, 1953, at 10:00 A.M. at which time bids will be opened.
The Coffee County Board of Education reserves the right to reject any and all bids or to accept such as it may deem proper.

WOMAN CLAIMS
DELAWARE COASTLINE
HARTFORD, Conn.—Mrs. Viola Daisy Wenski claims ownership of a narrow strip of land which she bases her claim on old land grants and family wills she has gathered. She says she is a descendant of Thomas Darcy, one of the first Huguenot settlers and land grants issued by William Penn.

If her claim is verified, her title will relieve Delaware from a distress that has plagued it since earliest times.
She explains that although some building has been done on the coastal land, no one has been able to acquire clear title to any of it because of the ancient colonial grants and, since 1850, Delaware statutes have prohibited adverse possession (acquiring ownership of land because of long occupancy).

Her strip Mrs. Wenski claims is 12 miles long, south of Rehoboth, and is a quarter-mile wide.
It makes up most of the coastline of the second smallest state in the Union.

NEGRO TRIBE FOUND
Near Mexico Report
MEXICO CITY—A tribe of half-naked, idol-worshipping descendants of Negro slaves has been discovered just 74 miles from the Pacific tourist resort of Acapulco.
The tribe was discovered by engineers on a road project. They report the tribesmen, who have remained almost 100 per cent Negro, are excellent hunters with bow and arrow, wear only loincloths, dance the old tribal dances and have many beautiful flower-ers. We pray God's richest blessings for everyone.

cobs and family, Mrs. Pearl

COFFEE CLUB PRESIDENT STUCK WITH THE CHECK

WASHINGTON, Iowa—Every member of the Washington (Iowa) Coffee Club has been its president and every president has been forced to pay.
The club, which has 1,000 members and never a one has aspired to a second term as the club's president.
Fifty to 100 members of the organization gather at 10 a. m. each week day, drink a cup of coffee, elect a president and adjourn.
The president's sole and unavoidable responsibility is to pick up the check for everybody's coffee.
Any stranger who can be persuaded to attend a meeting is a chance to be elected president.
4-Year-Old Takes Trip
ELIZABETH, N. J.—A baby Franz likes trains. Recently he learned, trotted two miles to the railroad station, and boarded a train headed for New York.
Like any seasoned traveler he sat down and went to sleep. When he awoke he found the conductor was conductor came along he didn't have a ticket but was allowed to ride. He was in New York anyway. There, Bobby confided in travelers and told them his name and address. Then he sat down and sucked his thumb until his father arrived. For a 4-year-old he had a busy day.

37 Years Ago in Elba

By C. B. McDowell

A very unusual and curiously interesting plant that has held the attention of the entire community for months is the century plant growing in the yard of Mrs. W. P. Boyd. For about 20 years Mrs. Boyd has cultivated and cared for this plant which has developed in the long course of its growth into a beautifully symmetrical and unusually large specimen with a height of about six feet and a circumference of approximately 18 feet. In April it was discovered it was about to bloom. The stem which was about a foot high when first discovered, grew up to a height of 25 feet with a base 25 inches in circumference. At a distance more than half way from the bottom of main stalk, each stem is developing four clusters of four

'Mr. X' to Get
Unique Gift

As Annual Gift

LUCERNE, Switzerland—Six years ago a Swiss watchmaker received this letter:
"I would like to place a standing order for one watch a year.
Each watch must be original in movement and design—there must be no other watch in the world like it. When you complete each watch, you must tear up the order. And never mind the cost."
"Mr. X" as the writer is known has received a watch each year since the order was placed.
The latest watch required 18 months to make. It is a pocket model, with a Viking Ship reproduced on the dial in platinum set with 57 diamonds. A platinum car is suspended from each side of the ship. At the touch of a button, the car will make the ship slide up or down a scale indexed from 1 to 12 to give the hour, and the other one will make the ship slide up or down to record the minute.
Every one of the six have been unique and the watchmaker has destroyed the designs so the watches can not be duplicated.

Tile Bathrooms Are Not So New

WASHINGTON—Tile bathrooms are not as new as many people believe. In fact, they were features of Greek homes as far back as 425 B. C.
Archaeologists report they have not only found tile bathrooms, but individual rooms designed to resembling present-day ramblers.
In a typical Olympian dwelling, the single, ground-level floor was divided into three or more rooms opening on a long portico, which in turn opened on a flat roof.

The bathroom was much larger than present-day models and differed further in that it provided only those facilities which the name properly implies. A terracotta floor, like a Victorian bath, was built in the floor.
At its foot a circular depression belonged to be dipped over the bather. Tiling surrounded the tub, and a drain carried off the water.
Private homes in Olympia were fashioned from adobe brick, temperature- and sound-proof. The city's streets were straight and broad, intersecting at regular intervals to enclose blocks 300 feet long by 120 wide. Each block contained ten houses, five on either side, divided by a narrow alley.
Each house with patio, was about 60 feet square.

Seventeen Year Locust Are Harmless Insects

WASHINGTON—The 17-year locust which recently appeared again is a relatively harmless insect, the Department of Agriculture reports.
Contrary to general belief, the department says, the insect does not destroy crops. This belief apparently started because early colonists mistook the cicadas for the Biblical "locusts" which speared grasshopper—that ruined crops in ancient Egypt.

The cicadas do not feed on foliage of any kind. It spends its five to six weeks of life above-ground singing, loving and laying of eggs for a new generation that will appear 17 years or so later.
What damage they do is largely caused by the female in making injuries punctures in twigs and limbs of trees and bushes with its egg-laying apparatus.

Youth Is Top Star On Voice of America

NEW YORK—A 17-year-old youth, Billy Brown of Yorktown Heights, N. Y., is the top star on the Voice of America. He broadcasts weekly to Asian audiences.

The high school senior has been called the Arthur Godfrey of the Asian audience because of his homespun chatter about American life in a small town. He never talks about politics—just school, American cooking, the things he does each day and what goes on in his home town.
His appeal is so great that it costs the government about $500 a month in postage and clerical expenses to answer his fan mail.
With the economy drive underway Billy was told his broadcast could be dropped because there was no money to answer his mail.
The agency relented, however, and Billy will continue on the air for a time at any rate.

Unexplored Frontier

The earth's last unexplored frontier is the deep sea. Even at this modern age, with all our knowledge, man knows amazingly little about life in the depths of the ocean. Man has been able to grope only a few thousand feet at most. Below that they must search for facts blindly with nets, sonic instruments or thin wire ropes.
These depths are guarded by darkness, crushing pressures and bitter cold. It may be centuries before they are thoroughly explored.

the States. The line of old Confederate soldiers is growing thinner. Most of them have passed to the great beyond. Although many sons survive these grand old leaders, not many were old enough to take part in the struggle.
It has just been brought to The Clipper notice that Coffee County has a case of this kind. G. W.
Sexton of Victoria, and his son, W. S. Sexton, both served in army and endured the hardships of that mighty struggle and still live to tell the story. The elder Sexton is now 89. He was born in South Carolina and moved to Alabama in 1849 and married Miss Nancy Stokes, 14 children being born to this union, 7 of whom are living. He has 26 grandchildren, 60 great-grandchildren and 15 great-great-grandchildren, making a grand total of 115 children and grandchildren. The young Mr. Sexton although many years younger than his father, shares the honor of being a Confederate soldier. Father and son are frequently seen together.

—37 Years Ago—
Elba is still dark at the time going to press. However, for two or three days a large force of men have been at work installing a dynamo at the plant of the Windham Gin Company in West Elba and it was hoped that current would be on last night.
The machinery is not properly adjusted but the work is being pushed and the current may be turned on at any time. The big plant of the Pea River Power Company, however, Elba, is not out of commission since July 7.
It is hoped that necessary repairs can be made within the next few weeks.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By HOLLAND & KILGO

Mose Harrison, Rhodes Community is being assisted by the local work unit technicians of the Soil Conservation Service.
The local work unit technicians of the Soil Conservation Service are planning to install a series of terraces on a portion of his farm. This system includes a number of parallel and will aligned terraces. These terraces are planned to empty into disposal areas across the field borders that are to be sowed to bahia grass. This system designed so as to reduce the number of short rows and provides for easier cultivation with mechanical equipment.

Harrison was very cooperative in providing those disposal areas from his corral. He reluctant to make the rain to Elba since last Friday at noon, reached here Thursday afternoon.
The train was stopped across Pea River from the depot, the railroad bridge not being in condition for it to cross. The train also made the night trip, reaching Elba about 11 o'clock.

areas with reseeded clover to provide additional grazing.
T. B. Bryan of Elba is making good use of land not suited to cultivation having planted it to pine trees. Recently in a conversation with him, he stated that the trees were almost ready for pulp wood. Farmers with such land can convert their idle hours during the winter months into a good investment by planting pine seedlings. A limited number of slash pine seedlings are being made available through the West Coffee work unit of the Wiregrass Soil Conservation District by the International Paper Co. free of charge.

Most-liked low-priced car

... among people who want more for their money when they buy... and more money when they sell!

There's a big reason why more folks are buying more Fords than ever before. No other low-priced car offers so many of the things people want and need for today's driving. In fact, to get "Worth More" Ford features at a V-8 engine, completely automatic transmission and fine-car power steering in any other car, you'd have to step well up from the low-price field.

Of course, Ford owners will discover that Ford's worth more when they sell it, too. Surveys of used car prices show year-old Fords returning a higher proportion of their original cost than any other car.

because it's most like high-priced cars

... more and more people are considering Ford as the one car in the low-price field!
It's hard to believe that a car which is built like the finest still sells in the low-price field. Yet a Ford with its huilt Crestmark body, its Full-Circle Visibility rummy luggage locker (roomiest in its field) delivers at a figure that keeps it right down in its price class.
Ford's only low-priced car which offers you a choice of a completely automatic transmission (Fordomatic), Overdrive or Conventional Drive, and Ford Master-Guide, available on all V-8 models, is the last word in power steering... makes turning up to 75° easier.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Parker of Mobile spent the week end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Parker.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

We then that are strong ought to have the burden of the weak, and not to please ourselves. (2nd Cor. 13:14)

It is one thing for a man to be weak, but it is quite another if, in weakness, he becomes envious and ungracious, unmoved and unsteady. He is not truly a good Christian if he fails to help those less fortunate than himself, or to make, at every opportunity.

37 Years Ago in Elba

By C. B. McDowell

Dave M. Vaughan announces this issue of the Clipper for the town of Elba subject to the Democratic Caucus. He is a splendid citizen and if elected will no doubt make a good law enforcement officer. He has many friends who are interested in his candidacy.

Syd Dunford, a progressive and popular young farmer of Victoria community, and Miss Lettie Anderson, subject to the Democratic Caucus. He resides in Ward No. 3, comprising West Elba. He is well and favor-coveted many nice presents. Guests included: James and Maxwell Bowers, Mary Amos, Tolsey Byrd, Mary Kathleen Talbot, Ralph Nichols, Heywood Cook, Malcolm Prescott, Hoehn Michel, Rudolph Bonneau, Alfred Prescott, Mary Eleanor Prescott, Henry Clark, Ada Parker, Ruby Polson, Alline Barker, Willie Elma Patrick, Louis Brooks, Mary and Roy Wise, Walter Whitman, Jr., Herbert Stokes Haire, Edwin Ellis, Agnes Mullins, Alex Mullins, Cecil and Joe Frank Prescott.

The electric current was cut off last night about 10:30 and will not be on again before tomorrow night, if then. It is said

Out on the Elba-New Brockton highway there has been completed one of the nicest school buildings ever seen in the rural districts of any county. The building is for colored children and is located in District 65. A meeting of county officials together with prominent colored people was held yesterday for the purpose of inspecting the building before its acceptance by the State authorities. It is almost certain that it will be accepted and will be in use in a short time. The colored people of that section are to be congratulated upon their efforts in raising the necessary funds to secure the other funds available. It is said the building cost approximately $800. It is a real credit to the county.

A. J. Bryan, Jr., former citizen of Elba, and at one time half owner of the Clipper, was elected mayor of the City of Florida in the election held Monday, receiving a good majority over his opponent. Jeff has many friends in Elba who will be glad to learn of his success.

Patrons on Rural Route 3, Elba, will in the future be served with motor mail service. J. L. Ham, the carrier, has been granted permission to use a motor car, and made the first delivery yesterday under the new schedule. The schedule for leaving the postoffice is the same as the other routes but the carrier is scheduled to get back to Elba at 11:30. This is the first motor route for the Elba Postoffice.

—37 Years Ago—

Sixteen-cent cotton is now a reality in Elba. This is the highest price paid here in many years and farmers are selling their cotton as fast as it is ginned.

—37 Years Ago—

Many heads were bowed in grief Monday when it became known that Mrs. J. M. Lammons had died. She was one of this community's most estimable women. She is survived by her husband, a daughter, two sons, one an infant only a few days old. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the home of her parents, Prof. and Mrs. R. J. H. Simmons. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

Although the cotton crop in Coffee County is quite short, the farmers are all smiles at the high price being paid for the staple and cotton seed. 16 cents for lint and $50 a ton for seed. From all reports, Coffee farmers have made large crops of peanuts. Buyers at Elba are paying 80 cents a bushel, which is considered a good price.
